FAX EDITION

Something Special for June

Kanda came up with a great idea for our June $99 classes!

If two people sign up for the same class (at the same time), the second registration is only $99!

That's right, the first person can still register at our current spring special fee of $160, and the second person earns our extra low June special of only $99.

Win95 Security Bug Fix

Microsoft has posted a patch aimed at protecting users from an attack that could crash Windows 95 PCs.

The fix for the so-called "out of band [OOB] data" bug.

The bug is caused when a website site sends a TCP/IP command with OOB data to port 139 of a Win95 PC.

The Win95 fix is posted at q168/7/47.htm .

Upcoming Classes

Here's a short list of our most popular classes (call Kanda for a full list):

Netscape Communications Corp. unveiled the plans for enabling media to "push" information out to readers over the Internet.

The new product, previously code-named "Constellation," will automatically deliver information to users.
